Discover Calaveras County!

Visitors Guide to the Scenic Ebbetts Pass

Calaveras County is a paradise of history and scenic beauty located in the eastern-central valley of California, encompassing the foothill and mountain terrain of the western slope of the Sierra-Nevada Range. Calaveras County covers 657,280 acres, nearly 85,000 acres of which are Stanislaus National Forest and another 6,000 acres of State Park. As you journey up the lower elevations toward Ebbetts Pass, between progressive towns and villages dotted throughout acres of untouched open land, you will experience a pleasant blending of the nostalgic past and exciting future.

Giant Sequoias

Famous writers such as Mark Twain and Bret Harte have written about the events of Calaveras County, while desperados Juuquin Murietta and Black Bart played havoc along the county's early day settlements and highways.

Calaveras County still maintains the nostalgia of yesteryear, the Gold Rush Days, with technology being integrated for the more progressive minded. Recreation or romantic history—relaxation or achievement, it's all here in the Mother Lode.

The cry of "Gold" brought fortune-seekers from all over the world to the hills of Calaveras County. Many of our towns, including Murphys, Angels Camp, San Andreas, and Mokelumne Hill, appear essentially the same as they did at the height of the Gold Rush era. Our county ranks fifth in the state for the number of registered historical landmarks. Calaveras is also home of a tradition that owes its beginning to one-time resident Mark Twain—the Jumping Frog Jubilee & County Fair; held every year on the third weekend in May.

Winter Travel

- Maintain your vehicle—have a trained mechanic winterize your vehicle.
- Pack emergency supplies—Flashlights, jumper cables, sand (for traction), a shovel, ice scraper, flares, blankets, water, food, first aid kit.
- When stopped or stalled—stay with your car, tie a bright cloth to the antenna, turn on dome light, if running vehicle, clear the tailpipe, crack window for ventilation, only run just enough to stay warm.
- Plan—take your time, check the forecast, study maps and directions, let others know your route and estimated arrival time.
- Practice safe cold weather driving—steer into a skid, know your breaks, slow down.

Snow Play Places Along Highway 4 Stanislaus National Forest

THIS MAP shows with a ★ locations where you might choose to stop and let the children out for snow play. Some of these are also places where people park to cross-country ski and ride their OSVs on snow-covered Forest roads.

Parking at the SNO-Park near Lake Alpine is by permit only; permits are available at local sports shops and all State Parks. This is a very popular spot for recreationists.

MILEAGE shown between the tic marks along Highway 4 is a general guide only.

Remember to be "Winter Wise"; be prepared for cold, delays and the unexpected. Then be prepared to enjoy winter's beauty and opportunities for fun and snow play!

CABIN WINTERIZATION

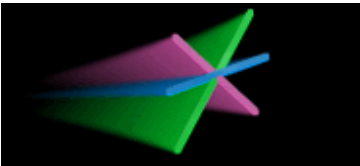

To prevent the freezing of pipes and the resulting considerable expense to replace them, it is necessary to do the following:

1. Turn electric power off to hot water heater. Leave refrigerator and any freezer on.
2. Turn the incoming water off. A valve is generally located near the foundation of the corner of the home nearest the water box.
3. Open the lowest hose bib to drain the water in the pipes. If there is a hot water pipe drain open it too. (Not the hot water tank.)
4. Turn on All faucets, showers included, on each level of you home to allow the pipes to drain properly.

5. Flush toilet and then put 1/2 cup anti-freeze in the bowl and 1/4 cup in the tank. (Use antifreeze sparingly as it will affect the bacterial content on your septic system.)
6. Put 1/8 cup antifreeze in all sinks, shower and bath drains.

IMPORTANT: When reversing these steps to use the cabin, be sure to turn the water on BEFORE turning hot water power on, or damage to heating elements will result.
